COMPLAIN OF SEAMEN'S ACT.

Committee Coming to Washington to Represent Norfolk Shippers.

NORFOLK, Va., April 8.—T. S. Crockett and William R. Morton of Norfolk and H. B. Holmes of Newport News were last night appointed a committee of three to go to Washington in the interest of legislation that would do away with some of the hardships wrought on local shipping business since the new seamen's act went into effect, at a meeting of the committee of nine of the local coal and steamship agents, held in the chamber of commerce.

The members of the committee adopted the plan of having the government establish government-owned boarding houses for seamen, as proposed by Immigration Inspector Morton at the meeting of the body, and the trip to Washington will be in the interest of this move.

FOR COASTWISE TRADE.

Steamer Capital City to Be Transferred Into Barge.

In tow of the Baltimore tug Grace the hull of the old Potomac river steamer Capital City yesterday left the Eastern branch en route to Baltimore, where it is to be made into a barge for coastwise service. As the steamer John W. Thompson she came here in 1875, when from the shipyard, and throughout her long life was always employed on the Potomac river routes. Later her name was changed to Harry Randall and then to Capital City, but change in name made no change in her service.

About a year ago she completed her days of usefulness and was sold to G. W. Forsberg, who stripped the vessel down to the hull. This was recently sold to J. T. Donohue, president of a Baltimore barge company, and is now to be given new life in a different line of traffic.

COMMON COUNSEL CLUB
JEFFERSON DAY PLANS

Arranging for Banquet Thursday Evening, at Which President Wilson Will Speak.

Interest of local democrats in the Jefferson day banquet to be given Thursday evening by the Common Counsel Club resulted last night in the formation of an auxiliary committee, under the chairmanship of Capt. John S. Miller. Members of the committee are Charles W. Darr, William McK. Clayton, Walter Costello, John Boyle, M. J. Maher and George Killen.

This committee met with Commissioner Brownlow, who with Assistant Secretary Vrooman of the Department of Agriculture and Assistant Attorney General Thompson, has charge of the arrangements for the banquet. Two-thirds of the states in the Union will be represented at the banquet by the chairman of the state democratic committees or their proxies.

Confer on Details.

Robert T. Mattingly, chairman of the District democratic committee, and John F. Costello, member of the national committee from the District, met with the committee last night. Mr. Costello announced that several members of the national committee would also attend the banquet. Mr. Mattingly will represent the District democrats at the conference of state chairmen, to be held Thursday morning, and welcome them to the National Capital.

Tickets are being distributed by John Burke, United States treasurer, who is also treasurer of the Common Counsel Club. By an arrangement made with Robert W. Woolley, director of the mint and president of the Common Counsel Club, tickets also will be distributed by the members of the auxiliary committee. This was done because tickets will be available after 12 o'clock Tuesday noon, and as the time is so short it was deemed advisable to shift part of the burden from Mr. Burke.

President Wilson to Speak.

Members of the local committee last night expressed themselves as believing that this banquet, at which President Wilson, Senator Walsh of Montana, Senator Hollis of New Hampshire and Representative Glass of Virginia will be the speakers, will be the first important political event of the presidential campaign of 1916.

Between 700 and 800 guests will sit at tables at the dinner, if the predictions of President Robert W. Woolley, made at the weekly function Friday in the Common Club of the Common Counsel Club, are verified.

CAPT. NELSON HOLMES DIES.

Had Been Member of Life-Saving Corps for Thirty-Seven Years.

NORFOLK, Va., April 8.—Capt. Nelson Holmes, for thirty-seven years a life-saver, died here after a week's illness. He was sixty-three years old, but was still engaged in saving lives from ships wrecked on the shoals of Cape Henry.

Capt. Holmes was in charge of the Cape Henry coast guard station. He saved more than 600 lives during his thirty-seven years he had been in the service. It is said that only two lives were lost on all the ships he assisted. He is survived by ten children—four sons and six daughters.

Even as Paul Revere was not conscious of sound from the boat he rowed across the bay, so will you, if your car is equipped with Revere Tires, be unconscious of tire trouble.

So well are Revere Tires made, so scientifically constructed, that rarely, if ever, do users of these remarkable casings have trouble with them.

If you want the assurance of dependability in your tires, we suggest that you follow the example of thousands of motorists who have found supreme dependability in Revere 'R' Tread tires.

WEATHER.

Cloudy Today, Probably Preceded by Rain and Snow.

For the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia cloudy today, probably preceded by snow and rain in the morning. Tomorrow partly cloudy; moderate variable winds, becoming fresh westerly.

For West Virginia, snow and rain today. Tomorrow fair.

The disturbance now covers much of the country east of the Mississippi river and has two storm centers, one off the New Jersey coast and the other over Ohio. The former storm is moving northward up the coast and gales have set in along the coast from Delaware breakers northward to Boston. The remarkable feature attending this disturbance has been the widespread snow which has fallen over the middle Atlantic states, southern New England, the lower lake region and the Ohio, middle Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys, with considerable amounts occurring in New England, the middle Atlantic states and the Ohio valley.

Temperatures considerably below the seasonal average prevail in practically all parts of the country east of the Rocky mountains, and Saturday morning freezing temperature occurred as far south as the middle Atlantic states, the Ohio valley, Missouri and Oklahoma. Warm weather prevails west of the Rocky mountains.

The indications are that there will be snow and rain today in the New England and middle Atlantic states, the lower lake region and the upper Ohio valley, followed by overcast weather in these districts tomorrow. Elsewhere the weather will be generally fair today and tomorrow.

Unseasonably cool weather will continue today and tomorrow generally east of the Mississippi river, although the temperature will rise somewhat tomorrow in the great central valley, the east gulf states and the upper lake region.

Storm warnings are displayed on the Atlantic coast from Delaware breakers northward.

Towing the north Atlantic coast there will be east to northeast gales, diminishing and becoming northwest; on the middle Atlantic coast fresh shifting winds, becoming strong northwesterly; on the south Atlantic coast fresh to strong west and northwest winds; on the east gulf coast fresh to strong northerly winds, diminishing and becoming variable; on the upper lakes fresh northerly winds, except moderate variable on Superior; on the lower lakes fresh east to north winds.
